Dear Colleagues,

We invite you to participate in the fifth edition of the EAPC sports cardiology course to be held on August 30, a day before the ESC Congress, in Paris.

Organised under the auspices of the European Association of Preventive Cardiology (EAPC), a branch of the European Society of Cardiology (ESC), this course provides an up-to-date and comprehensive approach to the evaluation of athletes with cardiovascular diseases, for physicians and allied health professionals with interest in sports cardiology.

The course will address pathophysiologic mechanisms and the diagnosis of common pathology. Appropriate management of the cardiovascular diseases and advice for safe sport, leisure or competitive, participation based on means of illustrative clinical cases.
